EVIDENCE TO BE HEARD IN UTAH.

(Special to The Herald.) Washington, March 30.—It is stated today on good authority that Chairman Burrows of the elections committee does not expect the tes-timony of the witnesses for whom subpoenas have been issued in the Smoot case will complete the case for the protestants. The testimony expected from these witnesses will supplement that already taken regarding the attitude of the Mormons toward polygamy, and its alleged continuous practice by members of the church. The testimony will not cover directly the allegations that the church interferes in politics and business, and proof of these charges is expected to be gathered during the recess by a visit of a sub-committee to Utah. It is stated on the same authority that the majority of the committee expects that the hearing of witnesses now expected here from the last issue of sub-poenas will occupy the time up to the close of the session, making it practically impossible to conclude the case at this session.

Panama, March 30.—The greatest surprise is manifested in all circles here over the alleged non-fulfillment by the United States of the agreements on the exchange of ratifications of the canal treaty that the United States should pay to the new republic the sum of $10.000,000. It is understood that the failure of the United States to make the payment has compelled the Panama government to float a loan in New York.
